BUILDING USE POLICY

PURPOSE

To provide guidelines on appropriate use of the school building for school purposes and appropriate fees for groups interested in using the building during available hours. This policy establishes the authority of the Director, under the supervision of the Board of Directors, to approve, manage, or deny requests for facility use in accordance with state law, lease requirements, and school priorities

POLICY

The school building is owned by a private entity and leased to the school for a defined period of time. The Board of Directors (the "Board") may, but is not required to, sub-lease the building to entities who wish to use the facilities during hours the school is not being utilized for educational purposes; provided such use does not violate any agreement, law or regulation by which the school is bound.

Use of school facilities for civic or other purposes shall not interfere with any school function or purpose.

In addition, the school's Director (the Director) or Board may, in their sole discretion, for any reason or no reason, deny use of the School Facilities. As such, this policy is not legally binding on the school to any extent.

Approval of use of facilities by a group or organization does not constitute endorsement of the group or organization's objective.

All facility use shall comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Utah Fire Code, and local building safety requirements.

TYPE OF USE

School-Sponsored Programs and Parent Organization Activities

The school's Parent Organization and individual classes shall be granted free use of facilities for qualifying school-related activities so long as the activity does not disrupt the functions of the school. Qualifying activities may include but are not limited to: activities related to the educational curriculum, class performances, or school-wide fundraisers. These activities shall be approved by the Director and scheduled with the Facility Coordinator prior to notice of the event going out.

Events that require use of the kitchen or require use of personnel may be subject to a fee depending on the number of school personnel required.

School-sponsored activities shall have first priority in scheduling. The Director may approve or deny requests based on alignment with the school's mission, safety considerations, and staffing capacity. Personnel fees may be assessed when additional staff are required, though the Director retains discretion to waive or reduce fees for educational or community benefit.

Charitable and Non-Profit Use

Charitable and Nonprofit rates apply to community organizations such as service clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, United Way, cities and counties. These activities shall be approved by the Director and scheduled with the Facility Coordinator prior to notice of the event going out.

Generally a nonprofit organization will have a tax exempt IRS number.

The Director may grant free use to public service organizations who perform strictly public services, such as civic groups, Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts when custodial and other services are not required beyond the regularly scheduled duty and when no additional school funds are used to subsidize these meetings.

This section aligns with Utah Admin. Code R277-107, which permits the charitable use of school property when the activity serves a public or educational purpose.

Other Groups and Individuals

These activities shall be approved by the Director and scheduled with the Facility Coordinator prior to notice of the event going out. This includes groups such as businesses, religious institutions, home school, higher education institutions, recreational groups, private groups and other organizations or individuals. All private or commercial users must provide required insurance, agree to the school's hold-harmless terms, and comply with all applicable state laws and school policies. Regular fees may be assessed for these groups.

PROCEDURES

MENTAL HEALTH POLICY

PURPOSE:

Mental health is defined as a person's emotional, psychological, and social well-being which can affect how a person thinks, feels, and acts including how a person handles stress, relates to others, and makes healthy choices.

Mental health is more than the absence of illness; it is an integral component of health and well-being. Promontory School understands the role mental health plays in the school context because it is central to our students' social, emotional, and academic success. When students' mental health is supported, they are better able to learn, make decisions, build relationships, cope with life's challenges, and thrive.

Mental health exists on a continuum and is determined by a complex interplay of individual, social and structural stresses, and vulnerabilities. Promoting mental wellness and reducing mental illness for all students is a priority that can be achieved by implementing school-based mental health policies and practices. These efforts are categorized by prevention, education, identification, intervention, and recovery.

PREVENTION

Prevention efforts at Promontory School include proactive strategies designed to promote student well-being and reduce future mental health challenges. These efforts focus on decreasing risk factors and strengthening protective factors such as resilience, feelings of safety and connection to school, healthy relationships with adults and peers, social-emotional competence, and developmental awareness.

Promontory School teaches the mental and emotional health standards outlined in the Utah Health Education Core Standards for grades K–8 and actively promotes social and emotional learning to support all students, including those who may be at risk or in need of additional assistance.

To support these goals, Promontory utilizes a tiered system of support to deliver social, emotional, and mental health interventions. Universal, school-wide programs—such as social-emotional learning and mental health literacy initiatives—aim to educate students and reduce stigma. Targeted and individualized interventions are provided for students identified as needing additional support through established assessment processes.

Promontory School may also offer therapy services provided by licensed Promontory professionals and/or through contracted community mental health providers, in accordance with applicable state laws and regulations. The availability of these services is determined by student needs and available resources. Promontory School provides such services only with prior written parental consent, as required by state code.

Parental consent is not required when Promontory School staff believe a student may be at risk of suicide, self-harm, or harming others. In such situations, staff may engage with the student to assess immediate safety concerns and refer the student to appropriate support or prevention services. The student's parents are to be immediately informed should such an event occur.

In an effort to understand students', parents', school personnel's, and other stakeholders' feelings of safety and connectedness, Promontory School may administer a School Climate Survey every other year in accordance with Utah Administrative Rule R277-623. The results of the school climate survey help inform the Promontory School Administration and School Board about how to improve the school environment.

IDENTIFICATION

Mental Health Screening

Routine mental health screenings are a key part of understanding youth mental health. Mental health screenings in schools, with active, written consent from parents, allow staff to identify potential mental health conditions early and connect students with appropriate help.

Promontory School may provide mental health screenings for students within the school setting for the purpose of identifying if a student is experiencing, or is at risk of experiencing, issues related to the student's mental health. All mental health screenings will be conducted in accordance with state rules and laws. Mental health screenings are NOT a diagnostic tool or process but rather, a system or process used by a student's teacher to observe behavior for the purpose of targeted learning interventions.

According to Utah Administrative Rule R277-625, mental health screenings may only screen for depression, anxiety, and suicidal ideation. At this time, no other mental health conditions may be screened. While behavioral screenings are not equivalent to mental health screenings, a screener that includes questions regarding depression, anxiety, or suicidal ideation does fall under the mental health screening program and must adhere to the same policies. USBE approved mental health screening tools are utilized by school professionals (53F-2-522 and R277-625).

SUICIDE INTERVENTION

PURPOSE: These procedures are intended to guide staff in responding to students' risk level for suicidal ideation.

If a school employee believes a student is at-risk for suicidal behavior or physical self-harm the school employee will immediately make a report to the school director or their designee, such as the school counselor and/or school social worker. The director and/or their designee may intervene and ask a student questions regarding the student's suicidal thoughts or physically self-harming behavior for the purposes of referring the student to appropriate prevention services and informing the student's parent or legal guardian. Queries should be conducted under the philosophy of "minimal intrusion" to the student, that is, only to the extent necessary to gather enough information to accomplish appropriate referral and parental notification, and in accordance with state law.

Assessing Suicidal Ideation Risk Levels:

The director and/or their designee will assess a student's risk level using the teacher/school edition of the Columbia-Suicide Severity Rating Scale (C-SSRS). Staff response will be determined based on the student's answers to Questions 1-6 on the C-SSRS. Staff should always ask Questions 1, 2 & 6, but will only ask Questions 3, 4, & 5 if the student answers "Yes" to previous questions.

Questions:

- 1. Have you wished you were dead or wished you could go to sleep and not wake up?
- 2. Have you actually had any thoughts about killing yourself?
- 3. Have you been thinking about how you might do this?
- 4. Have you had these thoughts and had some intention of acting on them?
- 5. Have you started to work out or worked out the details of how to kill yourself? Did you intend to carry out this plan?

6. Have you done anything, started to do anything, or prepared to do anything to end your life?

Staff response if the answer is "Yes" to the following questions:

- Q1, Q2 (Yellow): Parent/Guardian contact, provided mental/behavioral health resources, discussion of healthy coping tools and supports.
- Q3 or Q6 (Orange): Parent/Guardian contact (includes counsel and other precautions), provide mental/behavioral health resources, discussion of healthy coping tools and supports
 - Consider evaluation by crisis response team (see below)
- Q4, Q5, Q6b (Red): Parent/Guardian contact (includes counseling and other precautions), provide mental/behavioral health resources, discussion of healthy coping tools and supports.
 - Attempt to obtain permission for evaluation by a crisis response team.
 - Contact the emergency department if there is an imminent risk of harm.

In-School Crisis Response for a High-Risk Student:

If the student is determined to be "High Risk" (Red) while in the school setting, then staff will attempt to obtain permission for evaluation by a crisis response team. All actions taken, including contact attempts, time stamps, referrals provided, and any communication with parents/guardians, school personnel, or law enforcement, shall be documented

- A. Parent/Guardian APPROVES crisis response evaluation:
 - a. School mental health professionals, administration, school board member(s), and outside professionals as needed meet at school with parents to assess risk and develop a student safety plan.
 - b. Director is contacted accordingly, and a school safety plan created if necessary.
 - c. When a student indicates suicidal intent, the school shall attempt to discuss safety at home, or "means counseling" with parent or guardian, limiting the student's access to mechanisms for carrying out a suicide attempt (e.g., guns, knives, pills, etc).
- B. Parent/Guardian DECLINES crisis response evaluation:
 - a. Provide recommendations (including "means counseling" and other precautions), and provide mental/behavioral health resources.
 - b. Discussion with student on healthy coping tools and supports, including mental/behavioral health resources.

- c. Document refusal of crisis response to the director and parent/guardian.
- d. Any credible signs of wanting to harm self or others will follow with a referral to DCFS if precautions are not being taken by parent/guardian(s) or a safe environment does not seem available to the student.

Out-of-School Ideation Response Protocol

If school personnel receive information that a student may be experiencing suicidal ideation or self-harm concerns while the student is not in school, the following procedures shall be followed:

1. Parent/Guardian Notification

- a. School personnel shall immediately contact the student's parent or legal guardian to notify them of the concern.
 - If the parent/guardian cannot be reached after reasonable attempts, school personnel shall proceed to contact the designated emergency contact(s) listed in school records.
 - ii. If neither the parent/guardian nor emergency contact can be reached in a reasonable and timely manner and there is credible concern of imminent risk, school personnel shall:
 - 1. Contact local law enforcement to request a welfare check at the student's residence or known location.
 - 2. Provide law enforcement with the necessary information required to ensure student safety in accordance with FERPA emergency disclosure provisions.

2. Documentation

a. All actions taken, including contact attempts, time stamps, referrals provided, and any communication with parents/guardians, school personnel, or law enforcement, shall be documented.

RESPONSE TO SUICIDE ATTEMPTS

In-School Suicide Attempts

In the case of an in-school suicide attempt, the physical and mental health and safety of the student are paramount. In these situations:

- 1. First aid shall be rendered until professional medical services and/or transportation can be received, following school emergency medical procedures.
- 2. School staff shall supervise the student to ensure their safety.
- 3. Staff shall move all other students out of the immediate area as soon as possible.
- 4. Staff shall immediately notify the director and/or appropriate front office staff member.
- 5. The Director shall contact the student's parent or guardian.
- 6. The school shall engage a crisis team as necessary to assess whether additional steps should be taken to ensure student safety and well-being, including those students who may have had emotional or physical proximity to the victim.
- 7. Staff shall request a mental health assessment for the student as soon as possible.

Out-of-School Suicide Attempts

If a staff member becomes aware of a suicide attempt by a student that is in progress in an out-of-school location, the staff member shall:

- 1. Call 911 (police and/or emergency medical services)
- 2. Inform the student's parent or guardian
- 3. Inform the director

RETURN TO LEARN

Students may need to leave school temporarily to access more intensive mental health support. Promontory School supports students returning to school by partnering with community providers, parents, the student, and legal counsel if necessary to develop a transition plan.

The Student Return to Learn Safety Plan helps students and families work with the school to plan a safe and positive return after time away. A sample template can be found at the end of this policy document.

SUPPORTING THE SCHOOL COMMUNITY AFTER A DEATH

The director or designee shall confirm the death and determine the cause of death through communication with the student's parent or guardian, the coroner's office, local hospital, or police department.

If confirmed, the school will communicate with the parents or guardian to determine their preference about information released to the school community. If the cause of death has been confirmed as suicide, but the parent or guardian prefers the cause of death not be disclosed, the school may release a general statement without disclosing the student's name (e.g., "We had a ninth-grade student die over the weekend"). If the parents do not want to disclose cause of death, an administrator or mental health professional from the school who has a good relationship with the family shall be designated to speak with the parents to explain the benefits of sharing mental health resources and suicide prevention with students. If the family refuses to permit disclosure, schools may state "The family has requested that information about the cause of death not be shared at this time." Staff may use the opportunity to talk with students about grief, loss and suicide, and offer available resources.

Contact the crisis team leader at your school:

- Alert the crisis leader to the situation. Determine a time/location to meet as a team (could be face-to-face or online)
- Assign crisis leader to activate the team
- Review notification procedures and action items with the team

Contact the family with the following goals:

- Express sympathy and condolences
- Ask if information can be shared with students and parents in the community
 - It is best for the healing of kids to know the truth of the situation. In the case of death by suicide, ask if the death can be referred to as a death by suicide.
- Inform parents of the role of the crisis team at the school (to support the well-being and grief of the school community). As such, gather the following:
 - Names of their child's best friends/significant others
 - Names of students who may have been with their child before or at the time of the death
- Invite the parents to clean out their child's locker in a private time after school

Organize student records and belongings:

- Contact the registrar to inactivate the student's record.
- Locate file records, test scores, schoolwork, gather belongings, etc.
- Keep the student's locker intact until the family can come and remove belongings. If necessary, move the locker partner to another locker.

• Contact the school photography company and order a bereavement package. These pictures should be shared with the family to use at the funeral or as a keepsake.

External Communication

Please refer all media requests to the Director. The spokesperson shall:

- Keep the director and school crisis response coordinator informed of school actions relating to the death.
- Prepare a statement for the media, which may include the facts of the death, postvention plans, and available resources. The statement shall not include confidential information, speculation about victim motivation, means of suicide, or personal family information.
- Answer all media inquiries. If a suicide is reported by news media, the spokesperson shall encourage reporters to follow safe messaging guidelines, including:
 - Avoid making it a front-page story
 - Do not use pictures of the suicide victim
 - Avoid using the word "suicide" in the caption
 - Do not describe the method of suicide
 - Avoid using the phrase "suicide epidemic"
- Encourage media not to speculate about the reason for suicide and instead provide information on suicide risk factors, warning signs, and available resources.

Notification Procedures

- NEVER use social media or PA announcements to announce the death of a student or staff member.
- Do NOT announce at the end of the school day when there is no time to provide services and support.
- NEVER mention the means used in the suicide, as this can create additional trauma for staff and students.

Messaging

- Approved messages will be drafted by school staff to inform the Promontory community via Parent Square.
- Work with the Director to contact families before school if possible. Facts may be challenging, but rumors are harder; timely notification is essential.

• For deaths by suicide, parental permission is required before labeling it a suicide. If parents do not disclose, refer to it as an "unexpected death."

Notify Staff

- Administrators shall personally call teachers who currently have the student in their classes or coaches/advisors who work directly with the student.
- Administrators shall send an e-mail to all faculty and staff.
- Be mindful of staff for whom this could be particularly triggering (e.g., recent losses, prior experiences with suicide).
- Hold an emergency faculty meeting (face-to-face or online) to process the crisis before faculty share information with students:
 - Review confirmed details vs. rumors
 - Allow discussion of feelings, concerns, and support
 - Answer questions
 - Provide handouts on warning signs, resources, and healthy coping
 - o Express that the situation may be difficult and that the crisis team is available
- Prepare a statement for teachers to share with students at the beginning of the school day:
 - Relate only confirmed facts
 - Direct students to the school crisis center for support
 - o Do not resume classwork until needs are met
 - It is appropriate to share emotions (sadness, shock, grief) but avoid lecturing or religious answers
 - Monitor students for additional support needs
 - Share funeral date/time if available

Notify Parents of All Students

- Notify parents of highly impacted students via phone before sending electronic communication.
- With permission from the deceased student's parent, contact all parents electronically.
- Sensitive communication is key—only share information with permission.

Notify Students

- If possible, notify close friends personally before group announcements.
- Share information at the beginning of school, the day following the crisis.

- Ensure staff are informed first.
- Create a statement for class:
 - Only include known facts approved by the family
 - Share once at the start of the school day; avoid repeating in multiple classes
 - If the teacher is impacted or absent, a crisis team member or administrator may read the statement

Supporting Students

- Assign a service provider to attend every class period for the deceased student.
- Decide which counselor/adult will follow the student's schedule; choose a well-known counselor/crisis team member if possible.
- Follow up individually with highly impacted students, considering:
 - Clubs, sports, or teams involvement
 - Names provided by parents (friends, relatives)
 - Fragile students, recent losses, previous suicide attempts, ongoing mental health support
- Invite the most highly impacted students to the crisis center before classroom announcements.
- All adults should monitor wandering, highly emotional, or isolated students; crisis team members patrol halls/restrooms.

Establish a Temporary Crisis Center

- Provide a primary location (counseling office, library) for support.
- Identify smaller spaces (conference rooms, offices) for individual or small-group support.
- Counselors, psychologists, social workers remain in the crisis center as needed.
- Keep the crisis center open as long as necessary; stock tissues, water, snacks; provide lunch for staff if needed.
- Have students sign in; share sign-in with the attendance secretary at the end of the day.

Debriefing and Follow-Up

- Reconvene faculty meetings for highly impactful crises:
 - Assess faculty/staff needs
 - Address rumors
 - Share names of struggling students and monitor them
 - Plan for the next day

- Offer community crisis team services
- Reconvene the crisis team within a few days:
 - Reflect on practices
 - Identify strengths/weaknesses of intervention
 - o Review students needing additional attention
 - Plan follow-up actions and family support
 - o Allow emotional debriefing

Funeral Arrangements

- School remains open during the funeral
- Send representatives to viewing/funeral (administrator recommended)
- Arrange faculty/staff attendance (with subs if needed)
- Allow parental excuse for students attending
- Actively check in with siblings, faculty, and at-risk students as needed
- Proactively support students and staff during milestones (birthdays, graduation, anniversaries of death)

PROMONTORY SCHOOL WELLNESS POLICY

RATIONALE

The link between nutrition, physical activity and learning is well documented. Healthy eating and activity patterns are essential for students to achieve their full academic potential, full physical and mental growth, and lifelong health and well being. Healthy eating and physical activity are essential to reduce risk for many chronic diseases. Schools have a responsibility to help students learn, establish and maintain lifelong healthy eating and activity patterns. Well planned and effectively implemented school nutrition and fitness programs have been shown to enhance students' overall health as well as their behavior and academic achievement in school. Staff wellness also is an integral part of a healthy school environment, since school staff can be daily role models for healthy behaviors.

GOAL

All students in Promontory School shall possess the knowledge and skills necessary to make nutritious food choices and enjoyable physical activity choices for a lifetime. All staff in Promontory School are encouraged to model healthy eating and physical activity as a valuable part of daily life.

Promontory School recognizes that a healthy lifestyle includes balance — enjoying nutritious foods, staying active, and learning to make mindful choices when it comes to treats and celebrations. Promontory teachers and staff will use these opportunities to talk with students about making balanced choices — understanding that enjoying treats in moderation, alongside healthy foods and regular activity, supports lifelong wellness

To meet this goal, the Promontory School adopts this school wellness policy with the following commitments to nutrition education, physical activity, nutrition guidelines, other school based activities and implementations. This policy is designed to effectively utilize school and community resources to equitably serve the needs and interest of all students and staff, taking into consideration differences in culture. Evidence based or best practice recommendations also influence the policy/goals. A committee of multiple positions within the community and school shall oversee compliance of the wellness policy. Committee membership is available to all.

Allow food-based rewards occasionally, as long as:

- A healthy alternative is also provided.
- The activity or learning ties back to your wellness education goals (e.g., "enjoying treats mindfully," "balancing choices").

Promontory School encourages all victims of sexual harassment and persons with knowledge of sexual harassment to make a written report of any harassment immediately. All complainants have the right to be free from retaliation of any kind. Promontory School will promptly investigate all formal, informal, verbal, and written complaints of sexual harassment, and take prompt corrective action to end the harassment in accordance with our Grievance Policy.

Nothing in this policy shall be construed to give any right, claim or action beyond the specific processes provided in this policy.

KEY TERMS—

Complainants should document the incident(s) of harassment, and any conversations they have with the harasser, noting such information as time, date, place, what was said or done, and other relevant circumstances surrounding the event(s).

If the complainant's concerns are not resolved satisfactorily through a discussion with the harasser, or if the complainant feels he/she cannot discuss the concerns with the harasser, the complainant should directly inform school staff of the complaint and should clearly indicate what action he/she wants taken to resolve the complaint. Whenever reasonable, the complainant should file a written complaint.

Any school employee who receives a complaint of sexual harassment from a student shall inform the student of the employee's obligation to report the complaint to the director, and then shall immediately notify the director.

CONFIDENTIALITY—

It is Promontory School policy to respect the privacy and anonymity of all parties and witnesses to complaints brought under this policy. Where a complaint involves allegations of child abuse, the complaint shall be immediately reported to appropriate law enforcement authorities and the anonymity of both the complainant and school officials involved in the investigation will be strictly protected as required by Utah Code Ann. § 62A-4a-412 and Utah Administrative Rules R277- 401.

In certain cases expulsion may be warranted for a first offense if the conduct is egregious. Repeated offenses may warrant suspension and expulsion. Created: 11/02/2023

DIRECTOR'S RECOMMENDATION—

The director must consider the severity or pervasiveness of the conduct and exercise discretion in determining whether a Board of Directors level investigation is necessary regardless of the complainant's desires. If a blatant violation occurs involving criminal touching, quid pro quo (e.g., offering an academic reward or punishment as an inducement for sexual favors), or acts which shock the conscience of a reasonable person, the complaint should be referred promptly to the Board of Directors. In addition, where the director has reasonable suspicion that the alleged harassment involves criminal activity, he/she should immediately contact appropriate law enforcement authorities.

Whenever a sexual harassment complaint is made, the director must take action to investigate the complaint or to refer the complaint for investigation even if the student does not request any action or withdraws the complaint.

Investigations should commence as soon as possible.

If the initial investigation results in a determination that sexual harassment did occur, and the harasser repeats the wrongful behavior or retaliates against the complainant, the director will take prompt disciplinary action and will notify the Board of Directors.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS LEVEL INVESTIGATION—

Complainants who are not satisfied with the outcome of the initial investigation may request a Board of Directors level investigation by submitting the written complaint to the Board Chair.

The Board of Directors level investigation should commence as soon as possible.

In conducting the Board of Directors level investigation, the Board may choose to use an investigative team that has received training in sexual harassment investigation or that has previous experience investigating sexual harassment complaints.

If this investigation results in a determination that sexual harassment did occur, prompt corrective action may be taken including suspension, expulsion, change of placement, or loss of extracurricular activities.

Following the Board of Directors investigation and determination, the Board will notify the complainant in writing of the action taken.

The Board of Directors level review exhausts all processes and remedies provided under this policy.

RETALIATION PROHIBITED—

Any act of reprisal against any person who opposes sexually harassing behavior, or who has filed a complaint, is prohibited and therefore subject to disciplinary action. Likewise, reprisal against any person who has testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing of a sexual harassment complaint is prohibited and therefore subject to disciplinary action.

DISCIPLINE—

Any individual who violates this policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action under applicable school discipline policies.

Depending on the severity or persistence of the harassment, an individual who violates this policy may be subject to suspension, exclusion, probation, termination, or alternate placement. In addition, students who violate this policy may lose the privilege of participating in extracurricular activities.

If school administrators have reasonable suspicion that the harassment involves sexual assault, rape, or any other activity of a criminal nature, Promontory School shall notify appropriate law enforcement authorities and immediately initiate proceedings to remove the accused party from the situation.

If the accused is a student with a disability whose education involves services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) or accommodations under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act or the Americans with Disabilities Act, no disciplinary action, change of placement, or other steps shall be taken without convening a multi-disciplinary team to determine the extent to which the harassing behavior is a manifestation of the student's disability.

FALSE COMPLAINTS—

False, malicious or frivolous complaints of sexual harassment shall result in corrective or disciplinary action taken against the complainant.

RECORDS—

Separate confidential records of all sexual harassment complaints and initial investigations shall be maintained in the director's office. Records of School Board level investigations shall be maintained in the office of the director:

- 1. Records of initial complaints and investigations shall be retained for at least one (1) year.

CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT REPORTING POLICY

Promontory School of Expeditionary Learning takes seriously the legal responsibility of its personnel to protect the physical and psychological well-being of its students. We believe that the school's personnel have an important role to play in the elimination of child abuse because they are in a unique position to observe children over extended periods of time on a daily basis.

Utah law requires that whenever any person, including any school employee, contracted or temporary employee, or volunteer who has reason to believe that a child has been subjected to incest, molestation, sexual abuse, physical abuse, neglect, or human trafficking, or observes a child being subjected to conditions or circumstances which would reasonably result in sexual abuse, physical abuse, or neglect, he/she shall immediately notify the nearest police officer, law enforcement agency, or the Division of Child Family Service. The law provides serious penalties for failure to fulfill one's duty to report.

The Director shall establish administrative procedures that will comply with the provisions of Utah Code 80-2-602 Utah Child Abuse or Neglect Reporting Requirements, 53G-9-207 Child Sexual Aubse Prevention, and Utah Administrative Rules R277- 401 Child Abuse-Neglect Reporting by Education Personnel to help the school's personnel to understand and fulfill their legal responsibilities concerning child abuse.

Brief narrative describing the intensive and its purpose.

This intensive is designed to give students healthy options for being active during the winter as well as a sense of adventure to step outside their normal activities. In addition, there is a physics and sports element where students will learn about how physics relates to sports. Further, there is an Olympics component where we will learn about the history of the Olympics, go to an Olympic facility, and create our own Olympics activities. Finally, there is a safety component including how to prepare appropriately for different winter sports activities.

Guiding Question(s)

How can I be active during the winter to help my health? How do I appropriately prepare for winter sport activities? What physics principles apply to being successful at different winter sports? What is the science behind avalanches and how do I avoid them? What is the history of the Olympics? What type of character qualities are needed to be an Olympic athlete?

Learning Target(s)

I can appropriately prepare for winter sport activities. I can step out of my comfort zone and try new winter sport activities. I can learn and apply the safety rules for different sports. Intensive Title:	The Call of the Wild
Teacher:	Breanna Berchtold
Dates:	December 15-19th

Hunting has shaped both the land and culture of Northern Utah. In this intensive, students will explore the science, ethics, and traditions behind the many types of hunting that occur in our region — from big game and upland birds to waterfowl, predators, and furbearers. Through hands-on learning, fieldwork with wildlife experts, and creative projects, students will discover how hunters play an essential role in wildlife conservation and habitat management. Students will learn how each style of hunting requires different skills, knowledge, and stewardship practices to protect ecosystems. By the end of the week, they'll be able to explain how responsible hunting connects people to the land, supports healthy animal populations, and sustains Utah's outdoor heritage and, depending on their work ethic, also have their hunter safety passed off.

Guiding Question(s)

How does hunting help balance wildlife populations in Utah?

What skills and responsibilities are needed to be an ethical outdoors person?

How do humans, animals, and the land depend on each other?

How does hunting help keep wildlife and ecosystems balanced?

How can we be good stewards of the land in our own community?

What are the different types of hunting that we use here in northern Utah?

Learning Target(s)

I can explain how hunting and conservation work together to protect wildlife.

I can identify major wildlife species and their habitats in Northern Utah.

I can describe what makes hunting safe, fair, and respectful.

I can show how people can be good stewards of the land and animals.

I can reflect on my own role in caring for the natural world.

Intensive Title:	Holiday Passport Adventure
Teacher:	Lindsay Phenes
Dates:	December 15-19, 2025
Dates:	December 15-19, 2025

Students will explore how people around the world celebrate winter holidays through light, kindness, and community. They will learn about traditions, symbols, music, food, and values from a variety of cultures, deepening their understanding of diversity and shared human experiences. Students will create a lapbook using a file folder documenting their learning and add a stamp to their passport with each culture/country they visit. They will create artifacts associated with several celebrations. Student learning will be shared in a short gallery walk in the classroom at the end of the week.

Guiding Question(s)

How do people around the world celebrate winter holidays? What can we notice, wonder, or appreciate when we learn how others celebrate?

Learning Target(s)

I can find countries on a map.

I can create a passport and lapbook that show my learning.

I can experience new traditions with crafts, food, and music.

Engage: Show time-lapse video of shadows moving.

Explore: Outside, students trace a partner's shadow at two times during the lesson.

Explain: Discuss how Earth's rotation causes the Sun's apparent movement.

Project: Create a mini "Sun tracker" with a pencil and clay on paper to record shadow length over a day/week.

Assessment: Students explain in journals how the Sun's position changes and what pattern it follows.

Lesson 2: Moon Phases and Patterns: Reagan

Objective: Identify and model the repeating pattern of the Moon's phases.

Explain: Connect to the lunar cycle (~29.5 days).

Project: Create a Moon Phase Wheel that rotates to show waxing and waning. Assessment: Students order Moon phase cards and label each correctly.

Lesson 3: Seasonal Changes: Haley

Objective: Understand that Earth's tilt and orbit cause seasonal patterns.

Engage: Discuss what happens to daylight and temperature during different seasons.

Explore: Use a globe, flashlight (Sun), and sticky notes to simulate how tilt and revolution cause seasons

Project: Make a Seasonal Wheel showing changes in daylight, temperature, and weather. Assessment: Students can write 3 cause/effect sentences about why we have seasons.

Lesson 4: Star and Constellation Patterns: Glenna

Objective: Recognize patterns of stars and constellations in the night sky.

Tuesday, 12/16
CLARK PLANETARIUM

Wednesday 12/17 Wave Patterns

Lesson 1: What Is a Wave?: Taz

Objective: Define and observe waves as patterns of motion that transfer energy.

Engage: Demonstrate a slinky wave or rope wave.

Explore: Students experiment with a slinky to model compression and transverse waves.

Project: Draw and label parts of a wave (crest, trough, wavelength, amplitude).

Assessment: Identify wave parts on diagrams.

Lesson 2: Sound Waves: Glenna

Objective: Learn how humans use wave patterns (radio, Wi-Fi, medical imaging).

Engage: Watch a short clip about communication waves.

Explore: Use a simple circuit or rubber-band guitar to model frequency and pitch. Project: Build a Rubber Band Guitar and test how tension affects sound waves. Assessment: Students connect frequency and amplitude to pitch and volume.

Thursday 12/18 Energy Transfer

Lesson 1: What Is Energy?: Taz

Objective: Define energy as the ability to cause change. Engage: Quick motion demo — moving ball vs. still ball.

Explore: Students list everyday examples of energy (heat, motion, light). Project: Create an Energy Collage showing different types of energy.

Assessment: Label energy types in real-life photos.

Lesson 2: Heat Transfer: Haley

Objective: Investigate how heat moves by conduction, convection, and radiation.

Engage: Touch metal vs. plastic objects.

Explore: Three mini demos:

Conduction: Spoon in hot water

Intensive Title: The Great Motion Adventure

Teacher: Celeste Whipple

Date: Nov 1, 2025

Brief narrative describing the intensive and its purpose

Move Like Newton: A Motion & Mindfulness Intensive

Get ready to explore movement, motion, and your mind in this six-day intensive inspired by Isaac Newton! Each morning, we'll stretch, balance, and flow through yoga and body movements that help us feel and understand the forces around us. Afternoons are packed with games, experiments, and creative challenges that show Newton's laws in action — from rolling balls to obstacle courses and partner exercises.

By the end of the week, students will experience science through movement, learn how their bodies respond to forces, and practice mindfulness and focus in both play and stillness. Balance, motion, and curiosity will guide every activity, helping students connect science, movement, and self-awareness in a fun, hands-on way.

Guiding Question(s)

- How can I feel and understand forces like motion, gravity, and balance in my own body?
 - (Connects to PE/Health and Science body awareness + Newton's laws)
- How does controlling my movement and focus help me move safely and effectively?
 - (Connects to SEL/PE self-management, mindfulness, coordination)
- How can noticing motion in the world and in myself help me solve problems and make good choices?
 - (Connects to SEL/Health/ELA reflection, observation, and decision-making)

Learning Target(s)

• Exploring Motion:

I can demonstrate Newton's laws of motion through my body by balancing, pushing, pulling, and moving in different ways. (Science & PE – forces, motion, body awareness)

Control & Mindfulness:

I can use my breath, focus, and controlled movement to perform yoga poses, stretches, and physical activities safely and effectively. (SEL & PE – self-regulation, focus, coordination)

Reflection & Application:

I can reflect on how motion and forces appear in everyday life and describe what I learned through movement, games, and experiments. (Science, ELA, SEL – observation, communication, personal growth)

Day 1: Monday, December 15th At School We'll begin with an introduction to the history of women's sports, looking at major milestones such as Title IX, the rise of professional women's leagues, and the cultural challenges women athletes have faced. Students will discuss how access, visibility, and opportunity have changed over time. Next, we'll focus on the 2019 U.S. Women's National Soccer Team Equal Pay Dispute, learning about what happened, why it mattered, and how it shaped national conversations about gender equity in sports. Students will compare the pay structures and achievements of the men's and women's national teams and discuss fairness, value, and advocacy. Day 2: Tuesday, December 16th We will learn how to play Broom Ball and Broom Ball and Speed Skating Day - At The Utah how to speed skate at The Utah Olympic Olympic Oval Oval. We will plan to leave the school by 8:30 AM and arrive at the Utah Olympic Oval by 10:00 AM. We will be participating in broom ball and speed skating instruction until 1:00 PM. There is an online waiver for this activity. Lunch will be there so students will need a school or sack lunch. We are planning to arrive back at school in the early afternoon (by 3:00). If there is time, we will then debrief our day. If not, we will debrief the next day. Students will have the opportunity to explore specific athletes and reflect on how representation in sports shapes culture and opportunity. The class will also look at how women's physiology influences athletic performance, using current research to challenge old myths and highlight unique strengths in areas like endurance and recovery. This discussion will help students understand that biological differences do not define value or capability but can shape how athletes train and compete. We'll compare how women's sports often differ from men's in terms of rules, structure, and style of play because of this and other reasons.
